It was found that the dropout rate before Grade 9 is 'extremely low', with about one percent of learners leaving school in Grades 1 to 4.

From Grades 5 to 8 the dropout rate is minimal, ranging from 2 to 4 percent. The report found that from Grade 9 upward, the rate increases, reaching almost 12 percent in Grades 10 and 11.

The report cited a number of researchers who had found that dropping out of schools is not a single event, but the result of a combination of inter-related factors.

A new study of human rights has revealed horrific cases of rape and abuse of women and children living with HIV/AIDS by their own families and health care workers.

Rapes, beatings, stabbings and even murder were the most commonly experienced forms of abuse. HIV positive women revealed how family members were labeling them “useless”, “careless”, “stupid”, “nobodies”, and “prostitutes” who got what they deserved.

In 57% of the cases, the study found that family members were the main culprits while about 10% of the abuse occurred in health care institutions.

Over the past few years there have been high profile cases of HIV related human rights violations in the Eastern Cape. One such case was that of Nokuzola Mfiki, who killed herself and her four young children because of unbearable stigmatization by her community.

ETHICS IN THE WORKPLACE

'I recently read an article about the new technologies in the workplace. It is possible, the article reported, to make it seem as if you are actually at the office doing work when you are really somewhere else. As an example, the writer briefly talked about the guy that used his cell phone to change the screen on his office computer to make it look like he was working, yet all the time he was sitting in a nearby restaurant.

At the company I work for, the CEO recently warned people about coming in late and leaving early. He asked the question: Am I getting my money's worth. 'And that's the point. We all want to make sure that we get value in return for money that we pay out.

Beyond the earthly concerns of wages and responsibilities to our companies, we are not allowing ourselves to fully experience the dignity that comes through work. Being out of office when we should be working actually robs you of your integrity and self-respect.
